

Local Boat Owners Need New Numbers

More than 2000 Torrance boat owners must apply for their new boat numbers, according to a release received today from the secretary of the California Boating Council, Inc.

Boat registration officially opens March 1, 1960 and will be handled at the California Motor Vehicle Department in Torrance, the release further stated. Carlos Caldwell, manager of the Torrance office of CMVD, said:

"I have not received any official notification from Sacramento but expect to in the next few days. Until I get word, I don't know how it will be handled."

Month to Register
Between March 1, 1960, and April 1, 1960 (30 days), all boat owners, unless specifically exempt under the California Law AP 828, must apply for their new boat numbers.

Sample forms of the application will be mailed to all boating organizations and clubs throughout the state in February by the California Boating Council, Inc. The initial registration fee will be $5, good for three years.

The U. S. Coast Guard will not number California vessels after March 1, 1960. The U. S. Custom Dept. will continue to document vessels.

These type craft have been excluded from the California boat numbering program.

Boat owners who fail to apply for their new California boat number between March 1 and April 1 of this year will be subject to a 50 per cent penalty fee in addition to the $5 registration fee for late filing. Boat owners who operate their boat after April 1, 1960, without a

Navy Needs Nuclear Student

"The high school graduate can qualify for training in the Navy's nuclear field program prior to actual enlistment," say Navy recruiters in Gardena. "However, he must have plenty 'upstairs,'" said Chief Marlon Bradley, petty officer in charge. If found qualified under a series of examinations, he is classified as a "Nuclear Field Seaman Recruit" and after basic training in San Diego, is sent to school in New London, Conn.

"This is a wonderful opportunity for young men to embark on an entirely new technical career," said Chief Bradley, "and at the same time to serve in one of the oldest organizations in the country, the U. S. Navy."

Young men interested in a career in the nuclear field, electronics, guided missiles or any one of over 60 other specialties in the Navy are invited to contact Navy recruiters at 16422 South Vermont Ave., Gardena, phone DA 4-4588.
